

Once and For All, People....

By Anna Von Reitz

Executive Orders apply only to the Executive Branch of the Territorial United States Government.

If you are not in the military, or a military dependent, Executive Orders do not apply to you.

So if you are an American who has clearly declared and recorded your correct birthright political status, you are not a British Territorial U.S. Citizen and you are not obligated to obey any "Executive Order" nor any decrees, mandates, or proclamations of any State of State Governor.

All these yahoos are "Presidents" of large commercial corporations in the business of providing governmental services.

If the President of General Motors walked up to you and said, "Get your uniform on! Brush your hair! Shine your shoes! Turn in your handguns! Take your vaccination! Put on a mask!" ---- would you, Joe Q. Public, not being an employee of General Motors, have any reason to obey him?

No! You'd look at him like he was stark raving.

Use your common sense and put on your Employer Pants. These guys are paid by you, not the other way around.

So why do millions of Americans who are not Federal Employees or dependents act like Joe Biden died and became God by issuing an Executive Order?

As a living breathing American standing on your own land and soil, having declared your identity and political status and recorded it, and hopefully having joined your State Assembly, Joe Biden's Executive Orders don't matter a fig in Hell to you. They don't apply to you, and they never did.

Read it again and again and again. The only people who have to obey Joe Biden as a condition of their employment are federal workers employed by the Executive Branch of the Territorial Government.

And tough for them, if his orders are unpopular.
