

Here Are the Rats Responsible for the Foreclosures:Dinner-Time!

By Anna Von Reitz

It appears to most of you that you have a mortgage with a bank and that the bank has a "loan servicer" working as a subcontractor to collect and administer the terms of the mortgage. These loan servicers often have names that imply this role, but in fact, that isn't really their role at all.

They've bought your Promissory Note from the bank after the bank already discharged it once and got payment from trading your assets through the DTC---and now the bank has sold the same Promissory Note to the "loan servicing company" and they are pretending that they have an additional interest in your collateral.

Try to picture this--- you write a check, someone cashes it, and then the bank sells your cancelled, already cashed check to a Third Party, who comes to collect an equal amount from you again---even though you don't know these people from Adam, don't have a contract with them, and never gave them any interest in your credit or collateral at all.

All those of you who are currently in some foreclosure proceedings take a look at the back of the Promissory Note the vermin are presenting and expecting you to pay off? What does it say on the back? Why, some bank officer signed off on it, endorsed it (just like endorsing a check) "without recourse".

That means the bank has no further recourse and can't cash it again, but they've happily sold it on to some other suckers who are now intent on alleging that they have a new, separate contract with you, and that you are obligated to pay them under unknown and unstated terms.

So the bank advertised a "loan" and gave you a future lease re-purchase agreement instead, which is false advertising and fraud on the face of it. Then they set up the ACCOUNT in the name of a municipal government FRANCHISE named after you without your knowledge or consent, which is unlawful conversion. Then they got immediate recoupment of up to 21X the amount of the purported "loan" via selling your collateral off--- a process that included cashing out your purloined Promissory Note --- and then, to top it off, they re-sold your already-paid Promissory Note to Third Parties.

Huh?

How is it that these Third Parties are being allowed to cash what amounts to a cancelled check and also being allowed to claim that they have a contract with you guaranteeing such double-dipping?

Answer: more undisclosed and unconscionable contracting processes brought to you by MERS, DTC/DTCC, Bank of New York Mellon, and First American Title (ALTA).

Chances are that you were never aware that your signature has Actual Cash Value. Nobody disclosed that to you, did they? Well, it does.

Chances are that you were told you were being given a loan "in the normal course of business" meaning that you would be borrowing assets from the bank and paying them back.

That isn't what happened.

The bank seized upon your signature and sold it as collateral to third party investors who returned 3X to 7X the entire mortgage amount to the bank.

The bank then wrote a check to YOU --- a municipal franchise corporation named after you---- and pocketed the rest. They also charged YOU interest and got a security interest in YOUR property for nothing at all.

Well, how's a "dead" man going to do anything about it? After all, they snicker, they aren't bilking live people. They are plundering "abandoned" public trust accounts (JOHN MICHAEL DOE) and public utility companies (JOHN M. DOE) and the "government" is letting them do it, because the government is getting a piece of the action.

Those investors who bought (they think) your signature then turned around and used it like a rubber-stamp, counterfeiting it on everything you can think of---- other mortgages, new car loans, you name it. Your good name has been whored-out and counterfeited all over the world.

These four entities--- MERS, DTC/DTCC, Bank of New York Mellon, and First American Title (ALTA) expedited and controlled and caused and promoted all of it.

What do you say we seize their charters? Nationalize all their assets and accounts along with all the assets and accounts of the colluding banks and corporations that have benefited themselves from these crimes?

Stuff a couple million letters like this one down Trump's smoke stack and see what you see.

By the way, we are now reaching 70 million readers each week. That is about one percent of the world's population! Pretty amazing, no? The "Tin Hats" are proving to be the only ones who knew what was going on and their critics are proving to be the crooks responsible for all the crime and theft and misadministration. Who knew?
