

Recap

By Anna Von Reitz

There are three (3) Constitutions, one Unanimous Declaration of Independence, and no treaties signed in 1866 have any validity or weight, beyond being private corporate business agreements, because they were not signed by the actual government of this country.

From 1776 to 1790, The United States functioned for business purposes as "the" United States. After 1790, The United States functioned as The United States and still does. The business name "the" United States was passed on to the Municipal Government upon the passage of The Constitution of the United States.

From 1776 to 1789, The United States of America functioned for business purposes as "the" United States of America. After 1789, The United States of America functioned as The United States of America and still does. The business name "the" United States of America was passed on to the Territorial Government upon the passage of The Constitution of the United States of America.

From 1781 to 1787, the united States of America (Confederation formed under the Articles of Confederation) functioned for business purposes as "the" united States of America. The business name "the" united States of America was passed on to the Federal Government (American Subcontractor) upon the passage of The Constitution for the united States of America in 1787. This portion of the intended Federal Government ceased functioning in 1861 and has yet to be "reconstructed" by the States of the Union, that is, the member States of the unincorporated Federation of States doing business as The United States of America.

This is confusing due to the transfer of business names and similarity of names involved, and the use of the same names by different entities at different times during and after The War of Independence, but you can see it graphically presented as it currently sits by going to www.annavonreitz.com and looking up our One Pager of the American Government Structure to see where the gaping hole is.

What has resulted is that instead of African Americans being set free, everyone was enslaved on paper. They did this by abolishing slavery EXCEPT in the case of criminals, and then, defining all Municipal citizens of the United States as criminals.

This travesty has to end and the Pope has to stop playing war with himself. In essence, what happened is that the British Monarch in charge for running the Territorial Commonwealth for the Pope declared "war" on the Municipal United States Government which is also run by the Pope. So you see that the Pope indirectly owns/controls the Territorial Commonwealth and directly owns/controls the Municipal United States Government, so that any "war" between them is phony. The Pope owns/controls both would-be combatants.

What they have done is to collude together to keep a bogus "civil war" going on our shores as an excuse to accidentally-on-purpose misidentify and attack their Employers, the American State Citizens, who are civilian non-combatants who never fought in the so-called Civil War, and who are innocent Third Parties with respect to all this guile.

The Pope needs to be called out for all this and it needs to stop. The British Queen needs to be called out for her part in this, too. She knows that there is a difference between citizens of the Commonwealth who are residing here and the Americans who live here. There is no excuse for either the Pope or the Queen concerning this ugly circumstance. They both need to make amends and provide remedy.

See this article and over 2300 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the PayPal buttons on this website.