

To Pope Francis: Solve the World's Problems With Three Corporate Liquidations

By Anna Von Reitz

The highest form of law is Ecclesiastical Law. Most of the people who live and breathe on this planet don't know that, but it is nonetheless true. This is because as The Law of the Air, it governs intellectual property-- the entire realm of energy (labor), ideas, copyrights, patents, trademarks, doctrines, and yes, religious beliefs.

And the Pope has a unique role and position within the hierarchy of the Ecclesiastical Law --- he is the Supreme Arbiter and Sacred Steward ultimately responsible and empowered to liquidate any corporation on Earth which is found to be operating in an "unlawful" manner.

This is ultimately not part of his Sacred Office, but results from the fact that all these corporate business structures -- C Corps, S Corps, Foundations, Trusts, Cooperatives, etc., have been defined by and created by the Roman Curia. As Universal Law admits, we are all responsible for what we create.

So, here are the three men who need to be contacted, and the names of the corporations which need to be liquidated for cause:

Larry Fink, Joseph Hooley, and Mortimer Buckley are the CEO's responsible, respectively, for BlackRock, Inc., State Street, Inc., and the Vanguard Group, Inc. These are all giant investment funds and financial securities brokerage companies and they stand at the center of the worldwide economic debacle, including the medical malfeasance and genocide by vaccine that is ongoing.

We need not speak to the genocide, for that is self-evident. Even if all three of these investment companies are liquidated and their assets distributed to the victims, they can never pay for even one human life, just as they cannot create human life.

They are only THINGS in charge of Things, and as such, have no divinity in them.

Thus, by definition, however "rich" they may appear to be, they have no form of natural wealth, and are at best idolaters and fraud artists engaged in buying, selling, and trading shadows of reality.

They are also engaged in commodity market rigging, obstruction of free trade, and monopoly inducement via interlocking trust directorates and coercive misuse of shareholder majorities affecting nearly every productive capacity on Earth.

They own, so far as we can see, a majority controlling interest in the Fortune 1000 Companies, in numerous "national" government corporations, and the international stock exchanges.

The proliferation and growth of these three corporations has meant the death and stagnation of the world economy, and taken together with the overall corruption of the banks, these corporations pose a threat to life on this planet.

Liquidate them and return majority interest to the people who actually built the companies and institutions that these corporations are now ruthlessly manipulating to create a massive worldwide genocide aimed at killing their creditors.

Do it now, before there are no lives left to save, and what is precious and what can never be bought at any price, is lost forever.
